You who from Montemaior have come,
you who from Montemaior have come,
give me a word from the lady I love,
give me a word from the lady I love,
for if she hasn't sent me word, she will have rent my heart, and great regret I'll feel, and greatly slighted,
for I was born on a day that doomed me to the bane of loving her in vain - alas! she's never requited.

You who've just now seen her eyes,
you who've just now seen her eyes,
give me a word, by God on high,
give me a word, by God on high,
I'll feel, and greatly slighted,
of loving her in vain -
alas! she's never requited.
