Rubrica

In Provençal style I'd like to make a song of love and greatly praise my lady, whose looks and talents lack in nothing. God granted her so much that there's no other like her in any land.

Wanting her to surpass the rest, God made my lady highly skilled and worthy yet also humble, simple, full of common sense and every virtue, whence no lady could be her equal.

Placing in her no error, God made my lady pretty, clever, well-spoken and cheery like no one else, and very loyal. I cannot think of another lady worth talking about, since none can compare.
